Rotary Makeup Meetings By Milt Rolle

When you are traveling, plan your trip with some Rotary Club makeup meetings along the way. Rotary Club meetings can be found most anywhere you go. I find it very interesting to see the differences from one club to the next.

I like the noon meetings because most of us eat about that time anyway; so why not do it at a makeup meeting? Some of the meals are excellent. I like meetings that are held in country clubs, such as Palm Springs, CA and various cities in Florida.

Once in my travels I found a club that met in a culinary institution. The students served a five course meal that was the very best, so I returned three weeks in a row.

One club I visit in Hawaii is located in a room that has a 100% glass wall overlooking the ocean. Most days we are able to see whales jumping, surfers riding the waves and/or catamarans sailing by.

I have found the most interesting part of any makeup meeting is the program. Like our meetings, I learn much from a good program. Some of the presenters have lived such interesting and different lives.

I often come away with a new interest or a new knowledge about a subject that I knew little or nothing about before attending the meeting.

Many areas that you visit will have numerous clubs to choose from. I don't always attend the closes to my hotel. Also if I am going to be in that area for the next week, I always ask what the program will be for the following week.

You can just show up at a Rotary meeting or you can plan ahead by using the Club Locator at www.rotary.org to get details before you leave home. Remember you can double your pleasure by taking your spouse to lunch with you at a makeup meeting.

As a visiting Rotarian, one is always treated warmly and quite special. Some clubs may ask you to tell them something about your city or how many members are in your home club.

Why not include a makeup meeting or two on your next trip out of town. I can promise that you will come away with even more respect for the good that Rotarians are doing.

P.S. Remember to get a makeup receipt from the local club secretary, as it counts for attendance when you return home.
